Christian-majority Karen State, Myanmar, has endured an increase in attacks against civilians in the first half of 2026. The Myanmar military holds to an ideology of Buddhist nationalism, and often conducts artillery strikes and bombings against Christian communities. Barnabas Aid contacts in Myanmar reported in April that one bombing targeted a meeting of the Karen Baptist Convention. Ask the Lord to draw near to His people in their suffering.

Saudi Arabia is home to an estimated 2.1 million Christians of other nationalities, often workers from across Asia and the Middle East. These believers are permitted to own their own Bibles and worship in private, but any public expression of faith is prohibited. Only the Lord knows how many Saudi Christians there are – these Muslim-background believers are at risk of violence at the hands of their own families or the death penalty for apostasy from Islam (although this penalty is not known to have been carried out in recent times). Please intercede for all our brothers and sisters in Saudi Arabia, especially converts from Islam.
